Five-year plan OK'd for annual funding meeting

► Priorities set for yearly Task Force meeting by TA, Road Commission, City

by Caleb Casey
 Staff Writer

Representatives from the City of Grayling and the Crawford County Transportation Authority recently worked with the Crawford County Road Commission to establish a 5-year plan for Task Force #9 Surface Transportation Improvement Program funding. Out of the roads eligible for Task Force money, North Down River Road and McMasters Bridge Road were listed as the top priorities for improvement projects.

At the annual task force meeting, a pool of state and federal money will be divided among the road commissions, cities, and transportation authorities of several northern Michigan counties. All funding allocations for projects must be matched 20 percent by the group receiving the money.

Typically, the group with the highest balance gets first choice on funding a project from the task force pool. Completing a project with allocated task force funds depletes the group's balance.

Last year, Crawford County had a high balance and chose to use task force funds to complete a resurfacing project on Old 27 from M-93 through Frederic.

Due to a projected low balance for 2001, the Road Commission had no project planned for task force money this year. In 2002, the Road Commission planned to fund a project on McMasters Bridge Road. Sections of North Down River Road were listed at 2003 and 2004.

Previously, the road board had moved North Down back due to a proposed full interchange project at North Down, and an issue with the bridge near the Fish Hatchery. The bridge issue was addressed with a construction project last year, and the board now believes the North Down full interchange is not going to be constructed.

City Manager Allen Lowe, agreeing that the North Down interchange is not likely to become a reality, requested the Road Commission move North Down up on the priority list. Lowe said the city is planning on constructing sidewalks on the south side of North Down from the North I-75 Business Loop to the Fish Hatchery.

Lowe suggested a plan to work with the Road Commission on the project to coordinate efforts and do the sidewalks and North Down reconstruction at the same time.

The Road Board agreed that North Down should be a high priority. Road Commission Managing Director Don Babcock said the Road Commission may be able to negotiate enough task force funding at the annual meeting this year to reconstruct part of North Down this year, but several factors, including what other counties have done with their task force allocations and the city's potential involvement, could affect the outcome.

"There are lots of 'ifs,'" said Babcock.

With a 3-0 vote, the board approved the plan to fund North Down River Road reconstruction (from the North I-75 Business Loop to the I-75 overpass) with task force money in 2001 if possible, or in 2003 otherwise. McMasters Bridge Road is listed under 2002, and another section of North Down (from Wakeley Bridge to Stephan Bridge) was moved to 2004.

Dave Frederick, Director of the Crawford County Transportation Authority, said the $5,000/year listed in the five-year plan for the Transportation Authority was satisfactory for now, but "there's going to be a time when we come in and ask for a bigger project," he said.

The City of Grayling, which can also secure funding out of Crawford County's share at the task force, did not seek any amount for a project because the city is unsure which, if any, of its roads qualify for funding through the task force, Lowe said.

Also, the city already has a fund set aside specifically for road projects paid for by the city's income tax.

2001 Sawmill Medallion Hunt is now underway

► $1,500 in prizes to be awarded; several clues now available to hunters

The 2001 Sawmill Medallion Hunt for over $1,500 in prizes is well underway. The hunt began on Monday, January 29, and already there are historic signs that this year's hunt is one of the best ever.

With the hunt lasting for "seven" more days, the cryptic clues have eager hunters driving around in circles. And since the Crawford County land is so rich in tradition, it will be of no surprise for the successful winner to "renew the soul."

Radio stations WGRY and WQON air a new clue each morning and afternoon, and the Chamber of Commerce has a list of up to date clues in their office and on their web site.

The awards ceremony will be held on Thursday, February 8, evening at the Sawmill.

The following is a list of clues that have been released up to this point:

1. "To all you old hunters, we now truthfully say, to succeed in this hunt, you will have to pay. Not in cash terms, most certainly not. But your body sure will, and right on the spot. You know how I work, I run you around, and start at beginning, most certainly sound. So out to the west, you will want to haul, near Lucky and Laura's, on Mason Tract Trail."

2. "History doth show, that gold can be found, just get out and walk, 100 paces abound. Start from the lot, and move like a snail, and there on old log, on right side of trail. Oh! Did I mention, the place you should be? Is Mason Tract Trail, and old cross country? Find yourself lost? Don't stand there and moan. Stop and say hi, at Larry and Joan's."

3. "It should be clear, if gold to be seen, find ye and be, betwixt and between. The stores to the north, you will surely rally, head to the east, from a store there called Dally's. Off ye now go, and now to the race, but sportsmen please slow, your hook line and pace. Down this long trail, you don't want to mire, before you do go, see Upper Lakes Tire."

4. "See now the gold? Don't be a boar, head off to east, from Whistle Stop Store. Look for a sign, and please do not pass, 7 feet high, is white covered grass. Still hopelessly lost, I'm 'tween the stores, way south and down, from NAPA by Moore's. On north side of road, you might stop and hear, the sound of Great Motor's, from motors by Scheer."

5. "Well now we will go, to the north cause your bored, of missing it all, HEY!! Mr. Deward. Before you head out, you should stop and see, the fine young couple at North End Grocery. They can't tell you much, the 78 few, heading out China West, going past the Swamp Two."

6. "If now to the south, you now find shall be, near Cameron Bridge Road, and Road Manistee. There is an old sign, and birds shall you sing, of motorized use, and wildlife viewing. Stumped are you now, but still want to win? Stop and say hi, at old Frederic Inn. If that ain't enough, you'll cross country haul, to Pineview Surplus, and supply on Long Trail."

President's education plan applauded by Camp

Washington, D.C. - Rep. Dave Camp (R-Midland) applauded President Bush's bi-partisan education plan last week.

"The President's plan gives states, teachers, and parents the power and tools to educate our children. It holds states accountable, encourages reading success, and improves teacher quality," said Camp.

The President's plan centers on accountability. President George W. Bush proposes to hold schools accountable for improving student achievement. Annual state assessments will enable schools to give parents needed information about how their children are doing in school. This will also enable schools to detect and correct problems quickly.

"As the President has said many times and I agree 'reading is the building block and it must be the foundation for any education reform,'" said Camp.

"The importance to encourage children to read is a focal point of this plan. To address the fact that nearly 70 percent of fourth graders in the highest-poverty schools cannot read at basic level, funds for reading programs will be available to states to design reading programs in the early elementary grades and for low-income preschoolers.

"Ensuring that our students are learning means we must have quality educators. States and districts will have access to increased flexible funds to prepare, recruit, and train high quality teachers. In return, they will be held accountable for ensuring that students in public schools are taught by effective teachers. Teachers will have the authority to remove violent or disruptive students from the classroom. President Bush's plan will also increase funding for drug prevention and after school programs.

"The President has been listening to members on both sides of the aisle and has proposed a plan that meets the shared goals for education reform," said Camp. "Education is the ticket to keeping the door of opportunity open for our families and children.

"Today's students deserve the tools to be tomorrow's leaders. We must challenge our students to do their best. We must provide greater flexibility."

seen is because of aggressive spaying and neutering in this community. If it is made affordable to the people, they are more than willing to have their pets altered. I have also seen a great increase in people who are more responsible pet owners. I believe the low cost vaccination clinics have also had a big impact on these facts. I have always found people more willing to cooperate if you show them you are willing to help them accomplish what you ask of them.

"The pet owners of Crawford County have come a long way in the last nine years. There is still a long way to travel, but we are well on our way."

Pay hikes for lawmakers stir outrage, but too late?

by Lesa Ingraham
Capital News Service

Lansing - Karen Holcomb-Merrill has received many calls from outraged taxpayers and voters about the proposed pay raise for Michigan lawmakers.

"I've had lots of people call me. I tell them to call their senators and write letters to the editor," said Holcomb-Merrill, executive director of Common Cause - Michigan. "There isn't really much else that I can tell them."

Common Cause is a national non-profit, nonpartisan citizen's lobbying organization attempting to promote open, honest and accountable government. In Michigan, Common Cause worked to establish the Open Meetings Act and the Freedom of Information Act.

The proposed pay increase gained public interest because 35 senators stand to receive an average pension hike of $13,200 per year. Pensions would grow from a current average of $34,000 to an average of $47,000 a year.

The pension increases are due to a 40 percent salary raise for lawmakers over the next two years. Lawmakers will receive an average salary increase of $20,000 a year.

Senator George McManus (R-Traverse City) thinks there should be a vote on the pay increase and if there is a vote, he will vote in favor of the pay increase, said Gary Henderson, chief of staff for McManus. "As far as he's concerned, he could take or leave the money. It's the future candidates down the line to think about," Henderson said.

Henderson expressed McManus's concerns about finding qualified legislative candidates in the areas of health care and multi-million dollar budgets.

"How many doctors and hospital administrators who really understand health care issues are going to run for a job paying $56,000?" Henderson said. "With the term limits, this is not the best career move and who is going to want to interrupt their career to take a job with a pay cut?

"George thinks there should be a vote and when he decides what he is going to do, he announces it. Unfortunately, he seems to be in the minority in the Senate." McManus stands to receive a pension increase of $10,881.

Senator Gary Peters (D-Bloomfield Township) who opposes the pay increase, also feels the Senate should vote on the issue, but "The leadership of the Senate, Dan DeGrow (R-Port Huron), has said there isn't going to be a vote. I don't think it is appropriate for us to get this type of increase when state employees are only getting a 2 percent increase," Peters said. "I would not oppose a cost-of-living increase." Peters sponsored a Senate resolution to reject the increase.

"Whether there is a vote depends on public opinion," Peters said. "I'm getting more hopeful as time goes on, because I know the support is growing, but I'm always hopeful. If it goes through, I will keep a cost of living raise and donate the rest to a charitable organization."

The House voted Thursday, overwhelmingly, to deny the pay increase, but, regardless of the vote, the issue is still in the Senate's hands. If the Senate does not vote by next Thursday, the pay increase takes effect immediately, retroactive to January 1.

House Speaker Rick Johnson (R-LeRoy) co-sponsored a House resolution to reject the pay raise with the Minority Leader Kwame Kilpatrick, (D-Detroit).

In spite of controversy about the pay raise, Holcomb-Merrill said Common Cause does not necessarily believe lawmakers should get the increase.

"We (Common Cause) really don't take position on the money amount, but we have said that state legislators should be adequately paid," Holcomb-Merrill said. "We do feel that they should be held accountable, especially because of the public outrage."

"I've had people ask me if I am going to receive a pension," Holcomb-Merrill said. "Yes, I'm going to, but not anything like they're getting - and I'm not getting paid with taxpayers' money."

Twenty-seven senators are restricted from re-election by term limits and 24 of the 27 will be eligible to start receiving the new, higher pensions.

The five largest retirement checks would go to: Harry Gast, (R-St. Joseph), with an increase of $19,435; Dan DeGrow, (R-Port Huron), $17,861; Jackie Vaughn, (D-Detroit), $19,042; Robert Emerson, (D-Flint), $16,694 and John Cherry, (D-Clio), $17,112.

Bradstreet to head Energy & Technology Committee

Lansing - On January 25, State Rep. Ken Bradstreet (R-Gaylord), representing Michigan's 105th District, was tapped by Speaker Rick Johnson to chair the House Energy & Technology Committee, one of the largest committees in the Michigan House.

"As vice chair of the committee last session, Rep. Bradstreet demonstrated his knowledge and concern about these highly technical issues," said Johnson (R-Leroy). "I know that Ken's dedication and diligence will continue to strengthen the future of northern Michigan and the rest of the state. I look forward to working with him."

The Energy & Technology Committee, often known as the "Utilities Committee," is one of the four largest policy committees in the Michigan House of Representatives. The committee oversees utility issues, as well as telecommunications and Internet issues.

"I am very excited about chairing this committee," said Bradstreet. "It is humbling and gratifying to know my colleagues have the confidence to entrust this responsibility to me."

Bradstreet played a key role in discussions, during the last two years, surrounding the deregulation of the electrical and telecommunication industries. Aside from sponsoring legislation, he spearheaded a task force that deliberated on the standards of conduct between incumbent utilities and marketers in the natural gas industry.

Prior to taking public office, Bradstreet was the executive director of the Association of Alternate Postal Services, a national association that deals with regulatory issues, especially those pertaining to the Postal Rate Commission. His knowledge of regulated monopolies, standards of conduct, and a competitive marketplace has aided his understanding of similar regulatory issues that are handled by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Bradstreet said he looks forward to the many upcoming challenges the committee will face.

"Michigan, like most states throughout the nation, is facing some very significant energy problems," he said. "The price of natural gas and propane is dramatically increasing, although our residents have not yet seen the natural gas increase, due to the current rate cap. On April 1, when the cap is lifted, many consumers will be faced with the reality of the current demand for this highly used resource."

"As chairman of this committee, I hope to explore these pricing issues in greater depth."

Bradstreet also indicated he wants to compare the electrical markets in California and Michigan.

"I want to bring in the experts to explain what we need to do legislatively to ensure that Michigan residents won't be faced with the same electrical uncertainties as our West Coast friends," Bradstreet said.

Aside from chairing the House Energy & Technology Committee, Bradstreet was selected to serve on the Conservation and Outdoor Recreation, Education, and Health Policy committees.

"All of my assigned committees concern issues vital to the 105th District and northern Michigan," Bradstreet said. "I look forward to addressing the many legislative proposals in the best interest of my constituents."

ALMANACK

by Dirk Milliman

Count your blessings

The land of plenty?

Yes, America. We are a land of plenty. We are the land of opportunity.

Where else could a man from a dirt poor village like Hope, Arkansas, grow to be twice chosen to lead the greatest nation ever to be created on the face of the earth?

Where else could a man go from being accused a double murderer to being the Most Valuable Player in the Super Bowl in one year's time?

Only in America.

Yes, we surely are the land of plenty. We can have whatever we desire, whatever we dream of. And when we don't get it, we become upset.

But when do we have enough?

When did 200 television channels become less than enough?

How long has it been that we have to have heated car seats?

Maybe it was sometime around Christmas time, when we fought like maniacs because we had to have the newest Sony Playstations that hit the shelves. The Nintendo 64 that was all the rage last year is no longer good enough.

No, we have been heading down this road for some time. Sometime around the creation of the three-car garage? That was the same era when it became fashionable - no necessary - to have a television in every room.

I don't think of myself as that old, but I remember when it was a big deal to see a television show in color, or to have a color television at all.

Remember when it was impressive to have air conditioning? Those signs in the store windows that said "it's cool inside"? We don't see those anymore.

But maybe I'm spoiled. I've always had indoor plumbing. I don't remember the Great Depression. The only rationing I've had to put up with was Jimmy Carter's gas rationing.

We seem to take so many things for granted here in our land of plenty.

That's why I saved the following message that reached my email (see, there's another one) during the holiday season.

I share it with you now in the spirit in which it was sent to me.

"If you have food in the refrigerator, clothes on your back, a roof overhead and a place to sleep, you are richer than 75 percent of our world.

"If you have money in the bank, or in your wallet, and spare change in a dish someplace, you are among the top 8 percent of the world's wealthy.

"If you woke up this morning with more health than illness, you are more blessed than the million who did not survive this week.

"If you have never experienced the danger of battle, the loneliness of imprisonment, the agony of torture, or the pangs of starvation, you are ahead of 500 million people in the world.

"If you can attend a church meeting without fear of harassment, arrest, torture or death, you are more blessed than three billion people in the world.

"If your parents are still alive and still married, you are very rare, even in the United States.

"If you can hold up your head with a smile on your face and are truly thankful, you are blessed because the majority can, but most do not.

"If you can hold someone's hand, hug them or even touch them on the shoulder, you are blessed because you can offer a healing touch.

"If you can read this, you are more blessed than two billion people who can not read at all.

"Have a good day and count your blessings."

BE PREPARED FOR WINTER DRIVING EMERGENCIES

QUESTION: I travel a lot in winter and know there are certain things to do to protect yourself in case of car trouble, unexpected blizzards, being stranded, etc. What precautions can I take to be prepared for the unexpected?

SIGNED: On the go.

ANSWER: Michigan winters are often unpredictable and dangerous snow conditions can materialize unexpectedly. If you must travel, make sure someone knows your travel plans and the route you usually take. This includes travel routes to work as well as lengthy trips. Your car should be equipped with a safety kit in the event you become stranded. Include the following:

- a shovel and container of sand or kitty litter in case your car is stuck in snow or on ice
- a flashlight and extra batteries
- a gas can for longer trips
- a warm blanket, mittens, boots and hat
- dried fruit, nuts or candy to snack on
- a small candle in a jar and matches which when placed on the dash in a stranded car can provide light and warmth
- a "HELP" sign to place in the car window

Be sure to keep the gas tank full. If running the engine to keep warm while stranded, do so only intermittently and keep a window open partway. Make sure the exhaust pipe doesn't become blocked with snow. This is critical or your car could become a death trap in just a short time from carbon monoxide.

Remember, don't leave your car to walk for help unless assistance is clearly visible in the immediate area.

Be prepared for all possible emergencies when driving in Michigan winters. Also, why not give a family member or new driver a car emergency kit for a gift. It could turn out to be the most useful gift they have ever received.

Reporting on shelter issue 'resourceful, up to speed'

To the editor,

I am writing this letter in response to Mr. Kenney's letter. I found his letter to be disturbing.

I have found Cherryl's reporting on the animal shelter to be very resourceful and up to speed.

As for your comments on reporting the other side of the story, maybe you should talk to Ward Parker, Joe Porter and Nancy Lemmen who have not made any comments or statements. Instead, they sit behind closed doors and refuse to give their side. Maybe it is because they have something to hide and realize how wrong they are!

If they were the honest group they say they are, they would have been up front with the mediator on what they planned to do regarding Dixie. Instead, they sat there making him believe they were going to try working things out and all this time they had a plan to get rid of her anyway... never telling him they had already written her a letter.

Jill Stanley
Grayling

So, Mr. Kenney, maybe you can enlighten us on how we can get an objective point of view when the other side refuses to talk. They obviously see there is truth to what has been reported because, if it wasn't, they would not have a problem telling their side of the story.

Maybe they have a reason for not stating their side, but enough time has past and they got what they wanted. Still, they are behind closed doors, discussing and planning, and they won't tell their story. Maybe you should talk with them and report for yourself their side.

Who cares how Cherryl feels, as long as she is doing her job, unlike the board! As for Cherryl's van being parked in front of the gates of the shelter... WRONG. That van belongs to a woman by the name of Vivian Smith. As far as that goes, maybe you need to report actual facts.

Resolve lawsuit; return shelter to Dixie

To the editor,

I have been reading all of the stories in the Avalanche about the Grayling animal shelter and I am appalled by the pettiness and inconsideration given to Dixie Lobsinger after so many years of devoted service to the residents of Grayling and Crawford County.

We have had a home in the Grayling area since 1972. We have adopted more than a dozen pets from the Animal Shelter of Crawford County for ourselves, relatives and friends during the past 15 years. Dixie has bathed, wormed, and groomed each of our pets before we picked them up from the Shelter. All three of our beloved current dogs come from the Shelter, each more wonderful than the other.

We appreciate Dixie's efforts, we laud her attempt to create a source for Leader Dogs, and we recognize her selfless devotion to the animals that came into her care.

We witnessed her pain when she could not find a home for one of her orphans and had to put down one of the animals. We watched as she took abused dogs and made them trust and love again.

We sent Dixie and the Shelter a donation every year for the past several years (until all of the infighting started this past December), we donated to the Shelter rummage sale, and we turned in our Glen's receipts so that extra food could be donated for Shelter animals. We even had an architect who was willing to design the new shelter, pro bono, when the land was available.

To think that people doing "community service" can care for the animals at the Shelter with the love and devotion Dixie has, is absurd. It is time for the citizens of Grayling and Crawford County to demand the lawsuit against Dixie be resolved amicably; that the Shelter be put back into caring hands, and that Dixie be recognized for her unheralded activities.

Where were you?

To the editor:

I just returned from the meeting in the AuSable Primary School Cafeteria. It was a meeting to tell the search committee what you, the public, would like in a new superintendent. It was an opportunity to speak your mind about the kind of a person the School Board should be looking for to lead our educational community.

Where were you? Where were all the people who complain about the schools and complain about the people in charge of the schools?

Out of the entire community - there were only 12 of us there.

We spoke our minds. We told the man in charge of the search committee - Mr. Tim Quinn - what we thought they should be looking for in a superintendent - but we would have listened to you.

I was very disappointed in our community. You should have been there.

Media is wrong on Roe v. Wade

To the editor,

Anyone see the news program, "This Week" last Sunday?

During the show, the question was brought up about the possibility of Roe v. Wade being overturned by the Bush administration.

If there was ever a question about what side the biased, mainstream media is on, it was clarified by Cokie Roberts.

She put on her best look of indignation and stated, "Would someone please explain to me why the Religious Right is so opposed to a woman's right to choose, and not to the transplanting of the heart of a murder victim?"

Let me try to explain it to you, Cokie. Murder is wrong under any circumstances. The difference is that the murder victim was not murdered by abortion. Abortion of innocent babies is murder.

Ever hear of God's commandment, "Thou shalt not commit murder?"

He didn't say, "Thou shalt not commit murder, unless you feel you have a reason."

Think about it.

Editor's note

Editor's note: In response to the letter submitted by Keith E. Kenney of Grayling, published in the January 25, 2001 issue of the Crawford County Avalanche:

The only information and comments the Avalanche has been able to obtain from members of the Animal Shelter of Crawford County Board have pertained to their unanswered requests of former director Dixie Lobsinger to provide them with financial records and the fact that she stopped coming to their meetings. We quoted them only when they spoke "on the record."

We regret that we did not inform our readers of each incident when board members chose not to answer questions regarding shelter operations, meeting information, and who would manage the shelter after Lobsinger announced her desire to resign.

Finally, none of the vehicles that blocked the shelter driveway on either December 9 or December 31, 2000 was or is owned or operated by our reporter, Cherryl Rulcy.

February 9, 10, and 11 will mark the annual Grayling Winter Fun Days festival this year. The event, held at Hanson Hills Winter Sports Park, has evolved over the years with many different names, but has always had the same focus: winter fun in Grayling.

Please do not call the Eagles for information on this program. Their hall serves only as a distribution point.

Titanic 'Steerage Party Band' to perform at KCC

WORKER'S COMP COVERS

For injuries which are job-related, Worker's Compensation will compensate the patient. This applies to chiropractic treatment as well as other types of health care. In fact, because of the savings in both time and costs, insurance companies are very favorably disposed to chiropractic treatment of injuries.

What kind of savings? Well, for every day a worker is off the job because of a job-related injury, it costs Worker's Comp, the company, and the individual money. Anything which can reduce the amount of time lost is a money-saver; and, over the years, chiropractic treatment has proven itself extremely effective in returning workers to full activity after certain types of injuries.

Of course savings in money may not be your primary interest, but it should be in your interest to be returned to full and vigorous health in the shortest possible time, and with the least chance of complications.

CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC

Therapeutic Nutrition And Diagnostic Treatment Center for the Spine

YOU DON'T REALLY HAVE TO HAVE YOUR SPINE CHECKED OR EVEN ADJUSTED.

You don't really have to change your oil, tune your engine or maintain its alignment due to use.

You don't really have to brush, floss or have your teeth cleaned.

You don't really have to keep up with home repairs and maintenance either.

You don't really have to eat right, exercise or be active.

BUT IT IS A GOOD IDEA....SO WHAT'S THE POINT?

You spine is your lifeline and you only get one. So you cannot afford to neglect it. How do you neglect it? Your life places a continual physical demand on your spine daily. Nearly everything You do will affect it in some way. The accumulation of jolts, jars, strains, sprains, working, sports, postural fatigue, and even exercise (when you're not receiving any chiropractic care) all contribute to an acceleration of wear and tear on our spine. To make matters worse, gravity doesn't help. Nor the fact that we lose the blood supply to the disc in our early 20's. So you see, the real problem is always present, not just when you have pain. Of course, when pain is present, your body is trying to get your attention. Sometimes you listen and attempt to get to the root of the problem by calling us. Sometimes you just mask the pain. And sometimes you live with it for so long; it just seems normal to live in pain. You call it "getting older".

It's only therapy specially designed to minimize the consequences of days and years of abuse by restoring proper joint alignment, function, motion and weight bearing. So if you're taking glucosamine for your joints without proper joint function - good luck. And don't forget, when spinal structure is improved, so is the function of the nervous system. Those 31 pairs of nerves that come from the spine control your organs, tissues, cells and even blood flow. Just how important are these nerves....ask your heart, or lungs or any other organ system or function in the body supplied by them.

CHIROPRACTIC: IT'S NOT JUST ABOUT YOUR BACK OR PAIN, IT'S ABOUT YOUR LIFE AND HOW "WELL" YOU WILL SPEND THE REST OF IT.

The Bible Speaks

Are you Worried?

We teach little children the chorus, "Why worry when you can pray?" Yet, many Christians spend more time worrying than praying. God has forbidden us to worry, and commanded us to pray. "Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." (Phil. 4:6,7) The old English word "careful" means filled with cares or anxiety. God wants us to cast all of our worries and anxieties upon Him and to trust Him. "Casting all your care upon him: for he careth for you." (1 Pet. 5:7)

We should make a conscious choice to be happy in the Lord everyday. "This is the day which the LORD hath made: we will rejoice and be glad in it." (Psa. 118:24) "Delight thyself also in the LORD: and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart." (Psa. 37:4)

We should dedicate our body, mind, and will to God's control everyday. "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God." (Rom. 12:1,2)

As we choose to serve and obey God, He promised to guide us and bless us. "If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself." (John 7:17) "Commit thy works unto the LORD, and thy thoughts shall be established." (Prov. 16:3) "Commit thy way unto the LORD: trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass." (Psa. 37:5) "Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is." (Jer. 17:7)

Put God first in your life and He will help you take care of the things other people worry about. "But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." (Matt. 6:33,34)

Allow God to replace your covetousness desires with contentment so you can enjoy His presence. "Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee." (Heb. 13:5)

Avoid guilt feelings by confessing your sins to God and also by seeking the forgiveness of others. "And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil" (Luke 11:4) "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." (1 John 1:9) Don't worry! Be Happy! Pastor "B"

Free medical care available

Financial Assistance Network in Washington, DC had just published a new booklet, "Free and Low Cost Medical Care." The booklet includes information on how and where to get free and low cost medical care under the Federal Hill-Burton program.

The Hill-Burton program has been in effect for over 50 years providing more than 35 billion dollars in free and low cost care to qualified participants. The program was established in 1946 to assist in the construction and modernization of hospitals and medical care facilities. Nearly 6 billion dollars in grants and loans were given to 7,000 facilities in over 4,000 communities. In exchange, the facilities agreed to provide a reasonable amount of services to persons residing in the local community who are unable to pay.

"There are currently 687 facilities that provide free or low cost medical care, but there is rarely any publicity to let the public know about this program," says Jim Surasak, a researcher at Financial Assistance Network. "A step by step outline guides consumers through the process of finding a participating facility, and applying to determine their eligibility for free or low cost care. Consumers can apply before or after receiving care from a participating facility."

Financial Assistance Network is an organization established by volunteers dedicated to helping people who cannot afford medical care or prescription medication. The primary purposes of Financial Assistance Network are to inform potentially qualified applicants about the patient assistance programs for which they appear eligible and assist them in the enrollment process.

Consumers can receive a copy by sending $5 to cover the cost of printing, postage and handling to: Financial Assistance Network - Free and Low Cost Medical Care Booklet - Dept. MCB-1211 - P.O. Box 60848, Washington, DC 20039. Consumers can get more information by calling 205-595-1039 or from Financial Assistance Network's Internet web site: www.FinancialAssistanceNetwork.org

SWEETER

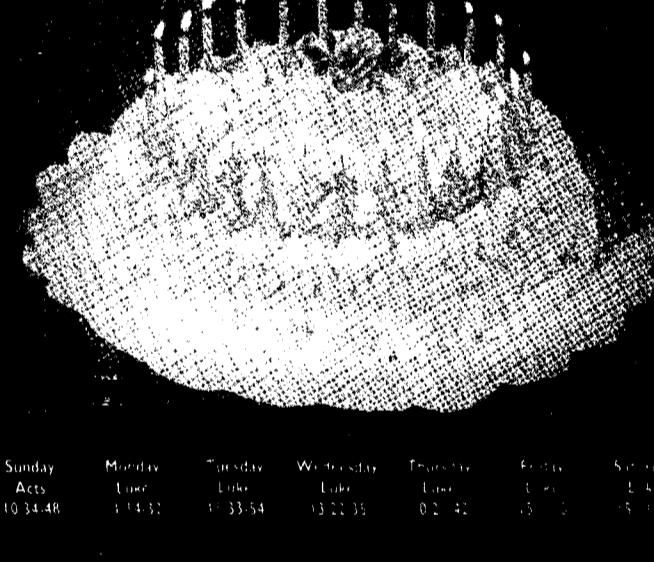

Oh, how many of us love sweets! Birthdays bring cake frosted with clouds of icing and topped with mounds of ice cream. Easter hatches chocolate eggs and Christmas and Hanukkah claim their own traditionally rich cakes and confections. Of course, sometimes we enjoy them too much and pay weighty consequences.

We read God's Word in Psalms 105:103... "How sweet are Thy words to my taste, sweeter than honey to my mouth!" Imagine a sweetness more wonderful to the senses than anything you have ever tasted. Best of all...the more the better! Does it sound too good to be true?

Indulge your spirit in God's House this week. Don't pass up the richness of God's love and the sweetness of His peace. Faith in our Lord satisfies our every need. Take the occasion to worship this week.

ALUMNI NEWS

Submitted by Clara Sorenson Class of 1935

I have received a letter informing me that Evelyn Thieme Schmidt passed away on December 18, 2000. She was a Home Economics teacher here in the 1930s.

After leaving here, she lived in Milwaukee, Wisconsin and had a new career as children's social worker that she found to be rewarding. She had been in nursing care in Racine, Wisconsin for several years.

She visited here in July, 1982 when Eloise Schmidt invited some former students to visit with her. I have enjoyed keeping in touch; I was one of her students.

Just a bit of trivia from the 1934 Yearbook. A list of the high school faculty:

R.R. Burns, Superintendent; G.L. Poor, Principal; Norine Berry, English; Josephine Nichols, Latin and Math; Evelyn Thieme, Home Economics; Willard Cornell, Physical Education; Beatrice Freeman, Commercial; Frank Bond, Science.

Evelyn is the last one of our teachers that the Class of 1935 had as Seniors. Today, our high school faculty numbers 20, plus.

(Above) The Grayling Elementary School gym was overflowing with students, parents, family and friends for the D.A.R.E. Graduation, reported Deputy Randy Herman. There were even people standing out in the hallways. Herman said he was happy to see such great support for the kids and the program that teaches the dangers of drug/alcohol abuse and violence. The graduation ceremony follows the 17-week program that began locally in 1988. Herman has administered the program in the Crawford AuSable School District for the last two years. Frederic Elementary School fifth graders will graduate February 9. (Bottom) Much to his delight and surprise, Ryan Cooper was asked to read a very moving poem to the large crowd gathered for the Grayling Elementary School D.A.R.E. Graduation.

Grayling Township recommended for nature park grant

construct a pavilion and restrooms, pave the entry road and parking lot, and develop nature pathways, provide water, electric and septic services, develop signage, construct two fishing piers, and construct a pedestrian bridge over the river.

Grayling Township Supervisor Terry Wright said, "When completed, Fish Hatchery Nature Park should be one of the nicer parks in northern Michigan, and it will certainly add to the overall fish hatchery restoration project. It will provide an excellent place for both local residents and visitors to spend quality time, especially children, and it should be very good for the local economy. I'm really proud of being able to provide such a wonderful township service."

To be eligible for the grant, Grayling Township had to pledge $75,000 toward the project from its general fund and another $50,000 in in-kind labor services.

Prior to the distribution of funds, the Department of Natural Resources must seek and receive legislative appropriation and approval. Wright expects to hear the results of the MNRTF funding request early this fall.

Mercy Hospital helps with Michigan Harvest Gathering

Mercy Health Services North in Grayling donated over 1,200 pounds of food and other staples to area food banks and agencies as part of the 2000 Michigan Harvest Gathering.

Mercy and the other hospitals and health care systems that are part of the North Central Council (NCC) of the Michigan Health & Hospital Association (MHA) combined to donate 23,406 pounds of food and other staples to area food banks and agencies. The donations benefit the 2000 Michigan Harvest Gathering, a statewide program that distributes emergency food to those in need.

LuAnn Hannash, Director of Mission Services at Mercy, said hospital employees, medical staff and volunteers collected the food during a drive from Oct. 16-30. The food was distributed to aid the needy in the communities of Grayling, Roscommon, Houghton Lake and Prudenville. The following agencies and churches received food donations: Crawford County Community Christian Help Center, Project HOPE at St. Vincent DePaul, and the First Congregational Church.

In Michigan, half of those served by food banks are the very young and the very old. One in three is in poor health, and 30 percent of those unemployed seeking emergency food were formerly in skilled or professional jobs.

The NCC serves as a regional unifying voice and presence for hospitals and health systems in northern Michigan by facilitating collaboration among health providers, providing a forum for communication and education on key health issues, and promoting policy that ensures access to high quality and affordable health care.

The complaint states there is "more than $25,000 in controversy" and contains four counts against Lobsinger: Count I - Nuisance; Count II - Trespass; Count III - Demand for Accounting, and Count IV - Request for Authority to Hold Special Meeting.

The complaint also states the organization makes no specific demands for monetary relief at the present time because the ASCC has not been able to determine the extent of business conducted by Lobsinger.

DuBois said a response to the complaint, which contains a total of 80 allegations, will be filed this week; within the 21-day requirement.

Local business earns environmental award

Huron Pines Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Area Council, Inc. announced early last week recipients of the 2000 O.B. Eustis Environmental Awards.

AJD Forest Products of Grayling earned the honor in the Business Category.

AJD was selected for its material contributions to several conservation projects in northern Michigan, as well as its work on the Michigan Sustainable Forest Initiative. AJD's efforts to develop viable wood waste recovery and use of good forestry management practices, while expanding the number of jobs being created, makes the company a good model for stewardship.

The purpose of the award is to recognize environmental excellence in northeast Michigan. The award program began in 1995 and was named for O.B. Eustis whose career in northern Michigan was exemplary in balancing economic and environmental issues.

Through a $1,500 grant from the Community Foundation of Northeast Michigan, each award winner will be able to select an environmental project.

Each of the three projects selected will receive $500 from the Community Foundation.

In the Individual Category, Vernie Nethercut of Alpena is recognized for her work with the Alpena Wildlife Sanctuary and The Lake Avalon Property Owners Association earned the honors in the Organization Category for becoming a model of cooperation between citizens and local government to improve lake water quality.

Nominees came from an 11-county northeast Michigan region and were judged by a committee of seven people from around the region, including representatives from NEMCOG, Huron Pines, and the Eustis family.

The award winners will be recognized at the Huron Pines RC&D Annual Meeting on February 3 at the Gaylord Holiday Inn beginning at 9:30 a.m.

FOOT NOTES

ARCH PAIN

While heel pain is a common symptom of plantar fasciitis (inflammation of the tendon running from the heel bone to the base of the toes), the condition can also cause arch pain. When the fascia suffers repetitive, contact strain, heel and arch pain can be the result. Patients often feel a burning in the sole of the foot, with increased pain when standing on tiptoe. The area may be tender to the touch. Arch pain can be caused by a person's exercise program. Runners who increase their mileage quickly or train on steep hills may experience arch pain. Ill-fitting or inappropriate shoes for a particular activity - wearing basketball shoes to go running, for example - can contribute to the condition. Pain is often the first sign of a foot problem, but pain doesn't always reveal the cause of the condition. The best way to determine the exact cause, location, and seriousness of foot pain is to have a podiatric evaluation including medical history, examinations and tests. And, at GRAND TRAVERSE FOOT & ANKLE CENTER, P.C., 1209 E. 8th Street, Traverse City, complete instructions for follow-up care and prevention are also an integral part of any treatment plan. Call 922-9100 & 800-968-7440 for an appointment. Offices in Traverse City, also Kalkaska Memorial Health Center Monday & Wednesday afternoons and evenings.

P.S. Obesity, arthritis, and poor biomechanics can also cause arch pain.

Controlled Burn Seminar announced

The English Department of Kirkland Community College has announced the line-up and dates for its annual Controlled Burn Seminar for Young Writers. The seminar, a week-long program for student writers aged 15 - 20, provides an intensive education in the craft of writing poetry and fiction on the shores of beautiful Higgins Lake. Past keynote writers have included fiction writers Charles Baxter and Brenda Flanagan, and poets Thomas Lux and Lola Haskins.

Now in its fourth year, the seminar which will run from July 1 - 8, provides an opportunity for students to study with noted authors and to produce high calibre writing of their own. The 2001 faculty includes poets Terrance Hayes whose first book, Muscular Music, received a Kate Tufts Discovery Award and a

Whiting Award; Mary Ann Samyn, author of Rooms by the Sea (1994 Wick Prize in Poetry), Captivity Narrative (1999 Ohio State University Press/ The Journal Award) and the forthcoming Inside the Yellow Dress; and Gerry LaFemina, author of 23 Below, The City of Jazz, Punk and Shattered Hours: Poems 1988-94; and fiction writer Peter Markus, author of Still Lives with Whiskey Bottle, and Irish fiction writer Jennifer C. Cornell, whose collection of stories, Departures, won the 1994 Drue Heinz Award in Fiction. Says director LaFemina: "This is the best faculty we've had to date, they're a diverse group of writers with a solid body of work and an excellent record of teaching. We have some returning faculty (Samyn and Markus have taught at the seminar since its inception) and some new faculty."

Students spend a great deal of time with their teachers - the seminar classes are small, intensive workshops 4 - 5 hours each day. Students also spend time in individual conferences with their teacher several times during the week.

Students not only receive a lot of time with their teachers - the seminar classes are small, intensive workshops 4 - 5 hours each day. Students also spend time in individual conferences with their teacher several times during the week.

Kaufman is followed on Saturday night by noted poet Bruce Weigl. Weigl's ten books of poems include Sweet Lorraine, What Saves Us and After the Others, and his memoir, The Circle of Hanh. is a powerful story of his experiences attention from faculty members, but they also have access to the renowned keynote speakers.

This year the seminar kicks off with Penn State University Professor Dinty W. Moore, author of two books of creative non-fiction: The Emperor's Virtual Clothes: The Truth about the Internet Culture (one of the first books about the Internet) and The Accidental Buddhist as well as a collection of stories, Toothpick Men. Moore's opening night reading is only the beginning of great literary highlights.

On Friday, July 6, Michigan writer Janet Kauffman will appear at the Seminar. Kauffman is the author of books of poems, several story collections including Places in the World a Woman Can Walk and Obscene Gestures for Women, and three novels: Collaborators, The Body in Four Parts, and Characters on the Loose.

For more information regarding the program, contact the seminar's director, Gerry LaFemina at (517) 275-5000 Ext. 376 or visit its web site at:

<http://www.kirtland.cc.mi.us/cb/urn/seminar.htm>

Students attending the conference receive three (3) credits through Kirtland. Workshop and rooms are provided at the MacMullan Conference Center, including a small computer lab for word processing.

surviving Vietnam. Keynote authors do public readings, perform question - and - answer sessions, and often spend time in informal sessions with the students.

Although the educational experience is intensive, the student social experience is also stressed. Time for writing and socializing is guaranteed, and it isn't unusual to see students at the beach or by the bonfire talking about their work. Often students return for several years, and according to one of those returning students, "The most important thing about the seminar was the super-close learning environment and one-on-one teaching. This was the most amazing week of my life."

To the editor,

Attention Animal Lovers:

To those of you who have pets that bring joy and comfort to you, please read on.

I was at the animal shelter the day the shelter board had Dixie removed. I was doing volunteer work as I have done in the past. Since that time, I was asked by the board to continue on and help make the transition smooth. Because of my love for animals I stayed.

I was not on either the side of the board or Dixie at the time. In fact, I applied for the position of director in December because I believed Dixie was serious about her resignation. I was interviewed by Ward Park, Dr. Paul Mesack and Sandy Crandall in the conference room of the Grayling Hospital for Animals. I was offered the job, but I later called back to say I could not euthanize an animal.

So, the first few weeks I served as a volunteer and things went well. Many board members came to work — cleaning, painting and helping with the animals. I was happy that everything was going well, but can now say that I have never done such hard work in my life.

"let go"), because I went in to work on Thursday and when I let the dogs outside, I came to a pen full of blood. Another shelter worker remarked the dog must have been in heat. I know she was wrong because there was too much blood.

In two weeks, I lost over 11 pounds from climbing over snow banks, hauling food and water to all the dogs after letting them out, scrubbing the pens and working with an overwhelming amount of animals. For the first time, I realized how Dixie felt. She did the work of four people every day. That's why she was so frustrated with the board. She asked for help so many times, with no response.

I was offered the director's job again by Ward, accepted it, but then decided to let another shelter worker have the full time paid position and I took her part time paid position, because she needed the hours. I was supplied with a W-2 form, but have not filled it out and I have not received or asked for any pay.

The only problem I see at the shelter now is that the animal care is nowhere that of Dixie's. In three weeks time, we lost a sick kitten, a beautiful golden retriever puppy and other animals started to get sick. It was then I realized we needed Dixie back more than ever. She was able to help animals in a way none of us can.

I no longer work at the shelter. As of late last week, I quit (I was not rieged because the animal was seriously ill and they may have been neglected).

On another occasion, a dog was brought to the shelter that I believe has mange or some sort of skin disease. To this day, the animal has not had a skin scraping done or been examined by a vet.

Correct me if I am wrong, but certain types of mange are highly contagious and possibly fatal.

So many rumors are floating around about broken glass being fed to the dog that was sick or that a "friend of Dixie's" brought in the previously mentioned sick dog to infect the other animals, or that workers like myself are "spies" for Dixie. What type of people think like that?

Those of you that know me, know that I care a lot about the shelter and that it would take a lot to make me quit. But, I can honestly say that I will not go back until Dixie is the director once again. It would be nice if the shelter board would work as hard for her as they are now.

Dixie is the only one who truly knows animals. It is my belief that many more animals may become sick without her wisdom. The current shelter workers do not have the knowledge Dixie possesses. Please, we need Dixie back.

Animal shelter board member gives update

To the editor,

In light of the negative remarks the animal shelter the past two months, I would like to highlight some positive activities happening at the shelter in the past month, as well as update the community on shelter operations.

Because of work by volunteers, the shelter got a facelift. The office has a new coat of paint, an answering machine was installed, and many fences and cages were repaired. Volunteers have worked faithfully to feed animals, clean cages and plow snow. We have hired a part-time staff person to help coordinate volunteers, handle adoptions and care for the animals. She is very friendly and enthusiastic and is a welcome member to the animal shelter team.

When the board took over shelter operations a month ago, the facility housed 55 animals. During the past three weeks, we have adopted out 17 animals and have taken in 12 animals. Sadly, this past week we had to euthanize two sick animals. Upon examination, it was recommended by a veterinarian the animals be put down.

We also faced some concern with a suspected case of parvo virus. A dog recognized to be ill Thursday morning, was taken to the Grayling Hospital for Animals for an examination. We were informed the dog may have parvo, although the case was unconfirmed and it could be another type of viral infection or internal parasite. The dog is currently being nursed at the shelter per veterinarian recommendations. Not wanting to risk spread of the disease, under guidance from the animal hospital, all shelter animals needing a parvo vaccination received one that afternoon.

We are striving to continue making the animal shelter a facility this community is proud of. Any help doing that is appreciated.

VARSITY WRESTLING TEAM

Vikings place well at weekend tourneys

Team splits into upper, lower classmen for separate meets

► Four Grayling wrestlers enough to finish 10th out of 23 teams at Gaylord

The Grayling High School wrestling team split into JV and varsity factions for separate tournaments this past Saturday, at which the Vikings were very successful.

The four juniors and seniors from the GHS wrestling team competed against 22 other schools from the area and the upper peninsula, including schools from as far away as Gladstone, Escanaba, and Munising, in the Gaylord Invitational Tournament. With only four wrestlers, the Vikings placed 10th out of 23 teams.

Victor CdeBaca (189) and Chris Peters (171) each took second place in their division. Alfred Borchers (215) finished in 7th, and Andy Palmer (125) took 8th place in his division.

The GHS freshmen took a weekend off from their varsity positions to compete in a 14-team JV tournament at Sault Ste. Marie on Saturday.

Eight Grayling freshmen made the trip to the U.P., and they all made a good showing.

8th grade 'green' team extends win streak to 6

► Vikings defeat Gaylord Blue Devils, Blazers of Kalkaska

With two wins last week, the GMS 8th grade boys basketball (green) team extended its current win streak to six games.

On Wednesday, the Vikings defeated the Gaylord Blue Devils at Gaylord by a final score of 35-23.

"The team played really hard. With (Jess) Bobenmoyer and (Ryan) Davis sick, the rest of the team picked up the defense," said Coach Craig Hofman. "Everyone had a positive influence on the game. They did not allow Gaylord to score in the second and third quarters."

Gib Tobin led the Vikings with 19 points. Josh Hinkle scored nine; Kyle Trudgeon added three; and Bobenmoyer and Davis each scored two points.

On Monday, the Vikings edged the Kalkaska Blazers in Grayling by a final score of 43-40.

"We won but did not play well defensively," said Coach Hofman. "We also had too many turnovers that allowed Kalkaska back in the game. We got into foul trouble

VARSITY/JV BOYS BASKETBALL

Varsity team wins two more conference games

GHS now tied for 2nd in NEMC

► Vikings to face Bay City John Glenn, Gladwin in next two matches

With league wins over Oscoda and Standish Sterling Central last week, the GHS varsity boys basketball team moved into a three-way tie for second place in the North East Michigan Conference with a 6-2 league record. Tawas (7-0 league, 11-0 overall) continues to hold the top spot in the NEMC.

On Tuesday, the Vikings won a close match at Oscoda, defeating the Owls by a final score of 57-53.

Grayling had a slim lead at half-time, 29-26. Oscoda outscored GHS 15-11 in the third period to take a 41-40 lead into the fourth quarter.

In the fourth, the Vikings got a boost from a 7-0 run, keyed by five points, two rebounds, and one steal by Dan Mead in a span of one minute.

The Vikings won the game by four points.

Ski team defeats Rosco, Farwell

► Boys, girls ski teams victorious over Roscommon, Farwell in Grayling Grayling High School's ski teams continued their winning ways last Thursday at Hanson Hills with victories over conference opponents. Both the boys and girls GHS ski teams finished ahead of Farwell and Roscommon.

The girls competition was about as close as it could get, with Grayling defeating Roscommon 36-37 and Farwell 34-39.

The Roscommon girls had a three-point lead over Grayling after the slalom race, but the Vikings came back in giant slalom (GS). GHS beat Roscommon by four in GS to win the meet by a single point.

"The girls showed their improvement in both skiing and mental toughness coming back in the giant slalom," said Coach Mike Wieland. "It was a good race for all our girls."

The GHS girls were tied with Farwell after slalom, and their win by five points in GS was the difference.

Grayling's top (female) skier was Andria Alvarez, who placed 2nd in slalom and 1st in GS against Roscommon and 2nd in both races against Farwell. Kelly Jansen placed 4th in slalom and 2nd in GS. Continued on Page 6B

Free ski clinic held at Hanson Hills

For over 15 years, the Grayling Youth Booster Club, with help from parent volunteers, has funded the Hanson Hills Free Skiing Clinic Program, which provides local students with free rental equipment, tow, and ski instruction.

This year, 214 third, fourth, and fifth grade students from Grayling and Frederic Elementary schools had the opportunity to learn to ski free at Hanson Hills.

For five weeks, the students, beginners to intermediate level skiers, were transported to Hanson Hills after school on a school bus for the free ski lessons.

"Without funding through the Grayling Youth Booster Club, some of these students might not have had an opportunity to try skiing," said Cindy Olson, Grayling Recreation Authority Director at Hanson Hills.

Oscoda won the JV game by a final score of 49-40. Grayling led 19-18 at halftime, but the Owls came back to win it.

Adam Kaiser led the Vikings with 18 points. Jessie Gildner (6), Roy Czapak (5), Chris Wakeley (4), Brett Mead (4), Joe Zelek (2), and Greg Morrill (1) also scored for the Vikings.

On Friday, the varsity squad defeated the Panthers of Standish Sterling at Standish by 17, 61-44.

Grayling led 27-25 at the half, then pulled away in the second half. The Vikings scored 18 points in the third quarter, while holding SSC to six, to take a 45-31 going into the fourth quarter. GHS outscored Standish 16-13 in the fourth period to seal the win.

Strong Pinconning team too much for GHS

► Varsity, JV, and freshman squads fall to visiting Spartans of Pinconning

The varsity, junior varsity, and freshman volleyball teams from Grayling High School all lost to Pinconning last Wednesday in Grayling.

The JV team lost to Pinconning's JV squad 15-2 in the first game. The Vikings rallied in game two, but lost a tough battle 15-13 to the visiting Spartans. The GHS freshman team also lost a best-of-three series 2-0.

The two varsity squads then took the floor for a conference match-up. The Vikings lost to a strong Pinconning Spartans team in two games.

In game one, Pinny went on an eight-point run to lead 8-0 early. A spike by Arica Wolcott got the ball back for Grayling. With Emily Fox serving, the Vikings scored three points, including one on a nice block up front by Wolcott.

Pinconning took over from there. The Vikings fought off some solid shots by Pinconning and held their own in a few good volleys, but Pinny scored the next seven points on five separate serving chances to win the match 15-3.

Grayling did not serve well in the second game, and Pinconning shut the Vikings down 15-0 to take the series 2-0.

For Grayling, Arica Wolcott had 1 block, 2 kills, and 1 dig; Ashley Wolcott finished with 1 kill and 3 digs; Kristy Hulbert had 3 assists; and Fox posted 5 digs and a 5/5 performance at the server spot.

"Everyone knows that Pinconning has a great program, because they work hard at it," said Coach Angie Golnick. "Our team is working on setting goals and working toward them. We're trying to focus on the positive and what we can do."

"Success is coming in small steps for us," said Coach Golnick. "Serving has been inconsistent. We need to put the ball in play and score the points. We need to believe that we are winners. We have the talent, but we need to find the team."

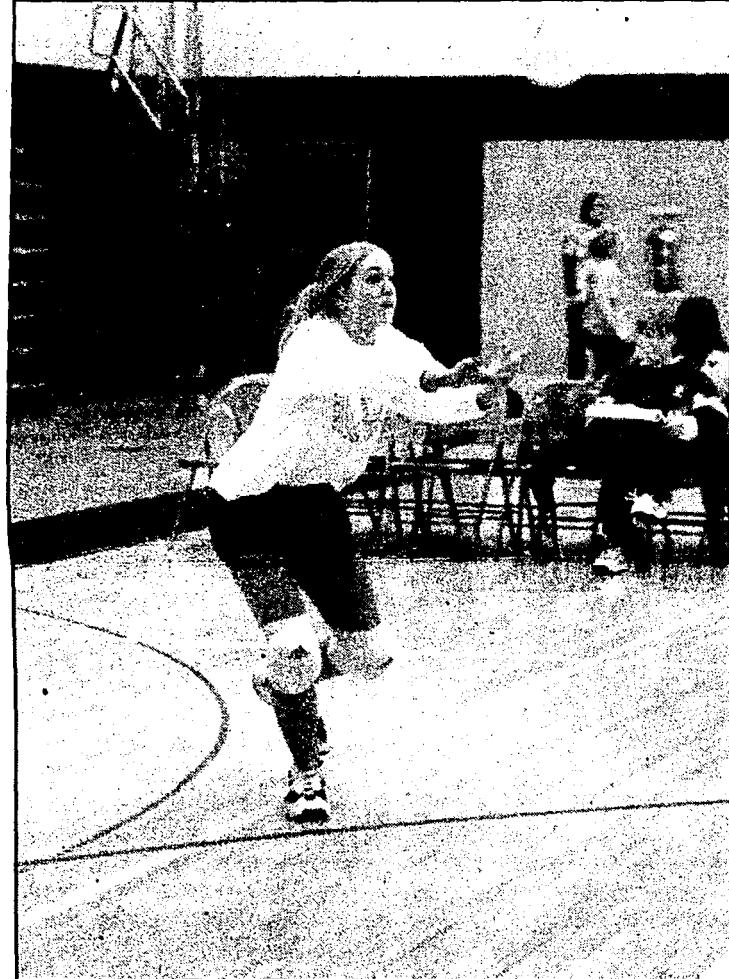

The varsity Vikings are now 2-2 in league meets this season.

On Thursday, February 8, the varsity team will play at West Branch Ogemaw Heights. On Saturday, February 10, Grayling will host the Subway Invitational Tournament beginning at 9 a.m.

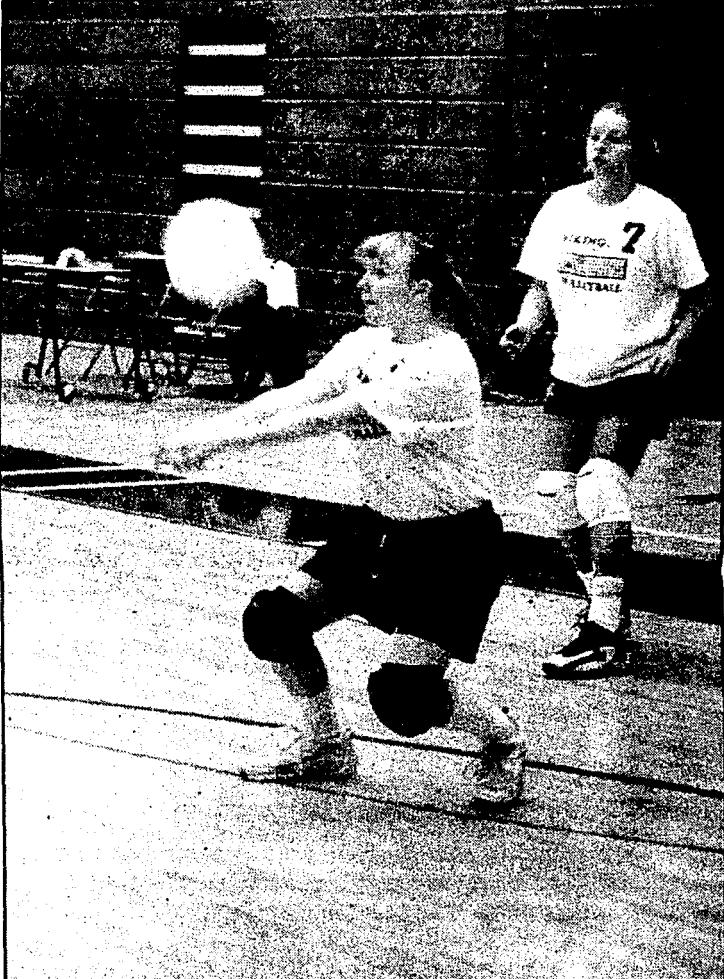

The junior varsity and freshman teams will host Standish Sterling Central on Monday, February 5, at 6:15 p.m.

Roscommon and Ogemaw Heights, two evenly matched squads, battled first. The Bucks pulled away in the last couple weight classes to win 39-28.

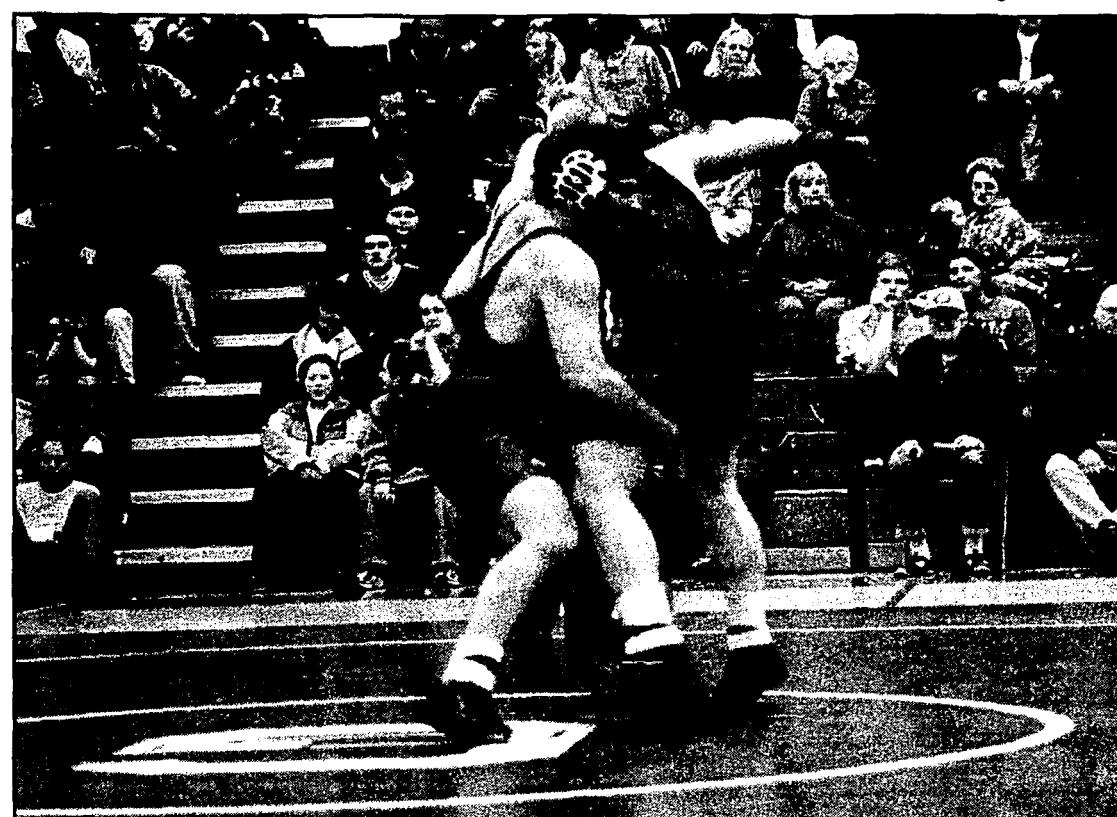

The Vikings then faced the Falcons of West Branch Ogemaw Heights. Grayling posted a 4-8 record in contested races, and had to forfeit two weight classes in a 60-14 loss to Ogemaw.

Winning matches for Grayling were: Malone (112), 6-2 decision; Babbitt (140), 8-0 decision; Pratt (152), 14-6 decision; CdeBaca (189), 14-9 decision.

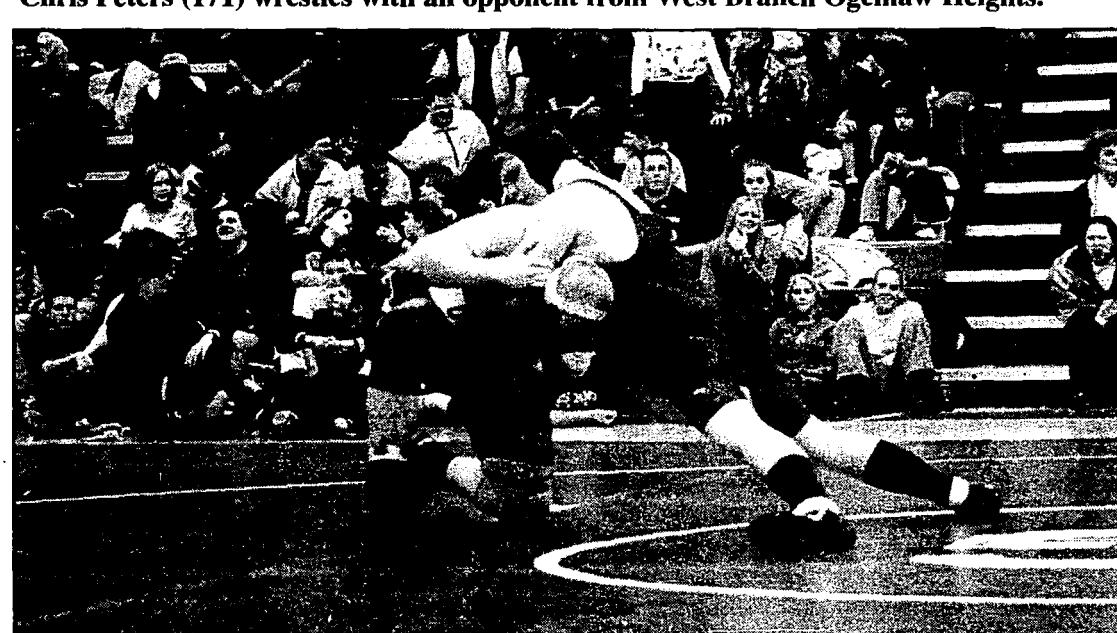

The Vikings fared better against Roscommon, but lost by a final score of 49-25. The Vikes were 5-7 in contested matches against the Bucks. Grayling again had to forfeit two weight classes.

Ski team defeats Rosco, Farwell against RHS, and 4th and 3rd versus Farwell. Freshman Heather Vandecar placed 5th in slalom and 8th in GS against Roscommon, and 5th and 6th against Farwell. Lesley Gilbert finished 9th and 5th against Roscommon and 7th and 5th against Farwell. Shalee Cox placed 11th in GS versus Roscommon and 8th against Farwell. Cox lost a ski in slalom and was disqualified.

The GHS boys skied well as a team, and extended the boys squad's league winning streak to 28 meets.

For the GHS boys, the top skier against Roscommon was Matt Ginther with a 1st in slalom and GS. Paul Jansen took 2nd in both races. Keil Clough finished 4th in both races. Derek Quick was 3rd in slalom and 7th in GS. Ben McInally was 7th in both races. Eric Hunter took 5th in GS and Eric Hunter was 8th in slalom.

"The boys took the first four places in slalom and six of the first seven spots in giant slalom to defeat Roscommon 22-60. They share the training at Hanson and have a good, friendly relationship with the boys from Roscommon, but they wanted to establish who the top racers on the hill are."

Against Farwell, Ginther was 2nd in slalom and 1st in GS. Jansen was 3rd and 2nd. Clough was 5th and 4th. Quick was 4th and 8th. McInally was 7th in both. Hunter was 5th in GS with Hart 9th in slalom.

On Friday, February 2, the Vikings will compete in the Mt. Pleasant Invitational at Silver Ridge. On Saturday, February 3, the ski teams will ski in the Flushing Invitational at Treetops.

Ben McInally races in the giant slalom competition.

CITIZENS BANK SKI RACE CLINIC

It was another cloudy day for the Citizens Bank/Hanson Hills ski race clinic. The children did not seem to mind the clouds, but they did enjoy the mild temperatures. The ski course was in great condition today and faster times were a result. We were very happy to have four new participants joining us this week.

Bradley Biggs led the boys, Preschool/Kindergarten boys and Wes Dean was 2nd.

Melissa Kalonich led the 1st and 2nd grade girls. Shannon Scott was 2nd. Alec Sloan was the 1st place skier for the boys. This was a tight race for the two new skiers. Zac Wolcott took 2nd place. He was only five-tenths behind Sloan.

Gracie Calkins led the 3rd and 4th grade girls. Rachel Wilson was 2nd, Danielle Harwood 3rd. Michael Olson took 1st place for the third week in a row. Chas Sloan was 2nd.

Avery Diola led the 5th and 6th grade girls. Rachael Doremire was 2nd, Jessica Riddle 3rd, and Gabby Calkins 4th. Kody Diola had the second fastest run of the day to lead the 5th and 6th grade boys. Joshua Scott was 2nd.

Jill Seager pulled out another win for the 7th and 8th grade girls. Beth Lucey was 2nd, Jodi Riddle 3rd, and Mandy Scott 4th. Jon Handy led the boys again this week. Handy also had the two fastest runs of the day. Ben Lucey was 2nd.

Kris Curtis joined in the fun this week on his snowboard and Greg Kalonich on his snowblades. We were not able to add their times into the results but we are glad they joined us.

People in these categories will be able to run the course, for a time, after the ski racers have finished their three runs.

If you or someone that you know is interested in ski racing come and join us next Sunday at 1:00 for practice and then at 1:30 for the race.

ANSWERS IN CLASSIFIEDS

HOROSCOPES

For the week of February 5 thru February 11

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19):

You'll need to exercise a lot of self-control this week. Monday brings the likelihood of domestic conflict. Tuesday brings a stronger sense of personal dignity. This should give you back your usual high level of confidence. Thursday, you find yourself feeling edgy; you can just as easily find yourself restless and emotionally tense. The need for control and a willingness for compromise when dealing with others are imperative. Relief will come on Sunday, as your love of beauty will be the main focus.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20):

Take care on the home front Monday, as there is a greater risk of domestic conflict. You'll find it easier to direct your efforts towards work endeavors on Tuesday. Don't underestimate your creative abilities on Wednesday. Draw strength from your proven successes of the past if you find yourself filled with doubt. Friday, your leadership skills will be prominent. You'll find Sunday refreshing as an enhanced appreciation of beauty will be prominent.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21):

Take good care of your health, especially if you're female on Monday. Feeling poor can be directly related to higher stress levels from domestic conflict. Your career can get a real lift Tuesday. Your more prudent and conservative side will be strong on this day, and the opportunity to make advancements is good. You might find that you feel rather tense on Thursday. You'll be mentally sharp, but also touchy and restless. You'll be back to your usual cheerful self on Saturday.

CANCER (June 22-July 22):

Conflict on the home front can happen much more readily on Monday. Given your love of home and family, this can be very unsettling for you. Keep your eyes and ears open on Wednesday. You get drawn into complicated relationships that will bring a world of turmoil. Step back and try to look around you objectively. Chances are you'll really want to do your own thing on Friday. Regardless of what you have on your agenda, be sure to take the time you need. Connecting with others will feel good on Sunday. You may find you feel especially romantic with this occurrence.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22):

You'd be wise to put some extra effort into how you handle your relationships this week, especially those of a romantic nature. Domestic challenges can occur more readily on Monday. Extra caution is necessary on Wednesday. You can be more drawn to complicated emotional relationships, along with underestimating your own abilities and skills. Thursday, you may find yourself tempted to break your commitments to a partner. Conflict and infidelity can happen under this aspects influence. Hang in there until Saturday. Your reasoning ability and friendly nature will be back to normal.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22):

If there are tasks ahead for you this week that require a strong mind, you'll be in great shape to accomplish them. Tuesday your outlook will be prudent, conservative, serious, and logical. If there are decisions that need to be made, this is definitely a perfect time for it. Your intellectual abilities will continue to soar on Thursday. However, you can also find yourself more stubborn and tense. Your leadership abilities will be evident to all on Friday. Your love of beauty will be strong on Sunday, when Venus sextiles with Neptune.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23):

Balance will be challenging to maintain this week. You may be engaged in domestic conflict of some sort. Your intellectual abilities will be strong on Thursday, but your emotions may get the better of you. You may find yourself tense, restless, and overly sensitive, and the tendency to be very stubborn can make things challenging. Compromise is one your best abilities. Relief is on the way, though, so take heart. Saturday, you'll be good-natured and ready to lend a hand if needed. Your reasoning and judgment will also be far more grounded.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21):

With your intense personality, this week may be challenging at some points. Working can be difficult on Monday. Tuesday's will bring much strength to your ability to think in a prudent and conservative manner. This day will see you handling the day's chores with much greater ease. Try not to get tangled up in complicated relationships on Wednesday. Friday you will be back on top of things and you'll find your leadership skills and ability to innovate strong. Enjoy the beauty around you on Sunday.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21):

As much as you might love to have everyone on your side, Monday may call for you to stand your ground. Conflict with your partner or parents is more likely to occur. Taking care of business will come easily on Tuesday. You'll see things in a logical and conservative way. You may hear that you're coming across in a far too stubborn way on Thursday. Take care when dealing with others, as your tendency to blurt things out without thinking can get you in trouble. If someone asks for a hand on Saturday, you'll likely rise to the request with no problems.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19):

Your strong mind and ability to look at things logically will help you with the emotional pull of some of this week's aspects. On Monday, if conflict arises at home, take time to step back and think. Your conservative and prudent nature will take center stage, allowing for you to get a lot of brainwork done. Make the most of this influence, as it may be more difficult to make use of these abilities on Thursday. Friday can see you acting arrogant. The need to be as flexible as possible will be evident. Your more relaxed approach will return Saturday.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18):

The Sun continues to shine in your own sign this week, bringing independence and love of the unconventional to higher levels. You may find that you doubt your own abilities on Wednesday. Perhaps the worst effect this influence can have is a greater risk of confusing reality with self-deception. The weekend will bring renewed strength. You'll find your ability to reason and make sound judgments back in full force.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20):

Guard your heart against upset on Monday. Expressed affections can bring sorrow much more readily. Be sure that you are clear in what you say, and that there is no room for misunderstandings. If things get rough for you, and an extra hand or shoulder to lean on is needed, your mom or a mother-like figure is the best bet for support on Tuesday. A couple of hours lost in a movie, book, or game can do a lot to refresh you, but on a day like Wednesday, it can go overboard before you know it. You'd be wise to stay clear of these types of activities altogether. If feelings of lower self-worth trouble you on this day, seek out a trusted source for support, rather than trying to block your emotions out. Saturday, bring relief.

Fifth deaf child in same family receives cochlear implant

Sixteen-month-old Alivia Anderson of Sparta doesn't realize it yet, but she's already made medical history three times over. When she's a little older, she'll hear all about it from her older brothers and sisters - and that's the most amazing part.

Alivia, born deaf, is the fifth child in her immediate family to receive the gift of hearing at the University of Michigan through the use of a medical device called a cochlear implant. She and five others of the eight Anderson children were born with a genetic condition that left them severely or profoundly deaf. Besides the five with implants, one sibling uses a hearing aid.

As if the national record of five implants in one family weren't enough, Alivia is also one of the youngest patients in the nation ever to undergo the cochlear implant operation, at thirteen-and-one-half months. She's also the 500th patient - and the 300th child - to receive an implant at the U-M, as part of one of the nation's busiest and oldest cochlear implant programs.

"It's like life is starting anew for her and it's exciting that she now has the opportunities that other children in our family have," says her mother, Darlene. "We definitely consider all of them a miracle. We don't even want to think where our children would be without the implants because of the benefit they have received."

Of all the Anderson children, Alivia may receive the most benefit from her implant, says Terry Zwolan, Ph.D., director of the U-M Cochlear Implant Program. "We're seeing that the sooner a child gets an implant, the sooner we can tap into speech and language development."

In fact, she and U-M audiology chief Paul Kileny, Ph.D., have just completed a study of 102 children who received their cochlear implants at different ages. They found that children who received their implants at a younger age did better on word and sentence recognition tests.

"About ten years ago, cochlear implants were only suitable for people who could hear almost nothing," says Zwolan. "Technology has advanced so quickly and we're getting such nice results that criteria have expanded to include adults and children with severe to profound hearing loss." About 200 adults have received cochlear implants at the U-M.

Alivia and her hearing-impaired siblings were all born with what's called the Mondini malformation, in which the cochlea - the snail-shaped part of the inner ear that channels vibrations to the auditory nerve and the brain - is malformed. Instead of a hollow spiral for sound to travel through, their cochleae are incomplete, preventing or limiting the ear-to-brain communication that makes hearing possible.

That's why the surgically inserted cochlear implants are such a good choice for the Anderson children and thousands of others each year.

Cochlear implants transform speech and sound into electrical signals that the brain can interpret. They bypass the normal function of the outer ear, hair cells and cochlea, using surgically implanted electrodes and digital signal processors worn on the ear or body to do the work that the damaged or malformed ear structures can't do.

The first step is capturing sound: A small magnetic microphone on the outside of the head, held in place by an implanted magnet, picks up sounds and sends them to a processor.

After the processor's programming translates the signals, the impulses travel through a coil to a receiver inside the ear. The implant transmits these signals through dozens of electrodes to the auditory nerve and brain, allowing the wear-

Proper immunization essential for children's health

These days the only way most people hear about polio, measles or whooping cough is when older folks tell stories, recalling the health scourges of their youth.

"Most people today have never even seen the diseases that vaccines are designed to prevent," says Gary Freed, M.D., director of the U-M Division of General Pediatrics. However, just because these diseases aren't seen doesn't mean their potential threat to health is eliminated. The need for timely immunization remains critical.

"The next new vaccine that's due out and likely to be recommended late this summer is the pneumococcal vaccine that prevents bacteria streptococcus pneumoniae," says Freed. "This is very exciting. Streptococcus pneumoniae is the most common cause of invasive bacterial disease in children less than 2 years of age. This germ is now the leading cause of pneumonia and meningitis in the country, he says.

Freed warns that since we now live in a global world, people from different countries come to ours and they might bring different germs, viruses and bacteria with them. "If the children in our country aren't protected, then those types of diseases and germs can spread like wildfire," he says.

This occurred, he says, in the late 1980s and early 1990s. "We saw pockets of measles in this country when we hadn't seen many cases at all for probably close to two decades. We became complacent," he says. Freed cites a good example of the toll of complacency. In the early 1990s, Great Britain discontinued the pertussis (Whooping cough) vaccine for children. "Within just a couple of years, there was an epidemic of whooping cough that resulted in the deaths and permanent disability of many children," he says.

Mandatory vaccination for whooping cough was soon reinstated there.

But some parents are concerned about vaccines' safety. Many people have the false idea that immuner to detect and understand speech and noise.

The Nucleus-24 model that Alivia was fitted with uses the first miniaturized device worn behind the ear, as well as a second processor the size of a pager worn on the body. It will allow her audiologists to fine-tune the sound she hears and the way speech is interpreted.

"Hearing aids and cochlear implants are very different instruments," says Zolan. "A hearing aid amplifies normal sound and uses the hearing that a person has to let them process that sound. It's simply making sound louder. A cochlear implant replaces the hearing inside the cochlea - that's why it's reserved for people who can't benefit from hearing aids."

As a result, Zolan explains, hearing impaired children as young as three months can be fitted with hearing aids, but the more profoundly deaf may be unable to hear appropriately even with the most powerful hearing aids. So, through the use of cochlear implants, physicians at the U-M and other centers are working to give such children the chance to hear at as early an age as possible. Increasing numbers are receiving their implants as young as 18 months.

Zwan and others are beginning to see proof that intervening at such a young age can help children develop the normal speech and language skills that hearing children acquire at about the same age.

The Andersons hope that Alivia will have an even easier time adapting to the implant - and to being able to hear - than their children who received implants at older ages.

But, Zwan says, not until the first group of early-implanted kids reaches school will researchers know for sure. "We have great hopes for these children that they will lead a normal hearing life," she says. "But it's so recently that we've started to do these really young children that only time will tell if we're able to fully mainstream them into normal hearing

Facts about cochlear implants:

- More than 25,000 people in the world have cochlear implants, most of them with the Nucleus system used in the Anderson children.
- Cochlear implants are used in more than 80 countries.
- The devices were approved for use by the Food and Drug Administration in 1985 for adults and in 1990 for children.
- Patients currently receive a cochlear implant in one ear.
- The operation to insert a cochlear implant lasts about 1 1/2 hours and costs around $50,000, which is usually covered by insurance. About four to six weeks later, an audiologist will add the components outside the ear, turn the implant on for the first time and tune it up. Additional tuning at later checkups helps customize the sound and speech processor for each patient.
- Cochlear implants are best for adults and children who have severe to profound hearing loss in both ears, limited benefit from hearing aids and a strong desire to be part of the hearing world. Children who receive the implants are placed in educational programs to help them develop auditory skills.

classrooms."

Added Darlene Anderson after Alivia's implant was turned on for the first time and the toddler first reacted to sound, "This is only the beginning. We know that now that she has this ability, we have to work with her to teach her to listen to sounds and to help her in her language."

That life has already begun, with Alivia's parents and siblings teaching her simple songs and reading books aloud to her. Someday, they'll be able to tell her the story of how she made medical history.

Facts about vaccines

- Annually in the U.S., streptococcus pneumoniae bacteria cause 71,000 cases of pneumonia, 16,000 cases of blood infections and 1,400 cases of meningitis. It also is the No. 1 cause of more than 5 million ear infections.
- The spread of disease is still a real threat because we live in a global, highly mobile world.
- Vaccines go through stringent testing before going on the market and they continue to be tracked after they are administered to the public.
- Adults, too, must be vigilant about their vaccine schedules, especially the elderly or those with compromised immune systems.

A vaccine for haemophilus influenza type B (HIB) - the most common cause of meningitis in children - was developed in 1992, says Freed. "I think it was the most significant day, the most important day in children's health in the last 20 years in this country" he says. Before the vaccine, some children were permanently disabled or died as the result of meningitis. "The number of meningitis cases we see in this country has fallen by more than 90 percent, simply as a result of using this vaccine," says Freed.

Freed also stresses the need for adults and seniors to receive timely vaccinations. "Adults need a tetanus booster at least every 10 years, and for seniors, it is very important they receive annual flu shots as well as pneumococcal and meningococcal vaccines," he advises.

Freed and his colleagues caution parents not to become lackadaisical about vaccinating their children. He realizes that with so many vaccines in the immunization schedule, it can become confusing. So he advises that the best way for parents to be certain their children are protected is to review their children's immunization status every time they visit their health care provider. "Go over their immunization record and find out what they need and when their next vaccines are due," he says.
